A MEXICAN CIRCULAR.

Rules Governing the Arrest and Trial of Foreigners. BALTIMORE, August 30.-The Sun to-day has the following special dated Washington; The state department has just received an order issued by President Diaz, chief executive of Mexico, through the medium of a circular issued by Mariscel, Mexican minister of foreign affairs, and distributed throughout Mexico, which will benefit Americans now and hereafter under arrest in Mexico. The circular of Mariscel to the governors of the various Mexican states, as translated from the Spanish language, is as follows: Law on trial of foreigners-Section first, Department of Foreign Affairs, Circular 5-Mexico, August 14.-It having been noticed recently and with frequency that some newspapers published in countries friendly to Mexico received with exceeding flippancy, and even with marked hostile intent complaints of foreigners resident in the republic, who were arrested for crimes which our laws chastise with corporal punishments, who pretend they are victims of unjust acts committed by our authorities. In view of the damage which this conduct may inflict upon the good name of the nation, if care be not taken to rectify the mistakes contained in those complaints, and in the comtained in those complaints, and in the com-ments based thereon, the president has seen fit to decree that you be recommended, in case of arrest of a foreigner for any cause within the limits of your state to remit to this department as soon as possible a detailed report of the causes for action, legal process, and of the status of the same. The supreme magistrate, therefore, hopes the government under your worthy charge will dictate the necessary instructions to subordinate authorities. The president desires that as far as in you lies, care especially be taken so that in cases I

He was introduced by T. J. Pickett as "the best abused man in Nebraska." and when the senator arose he was greeted with deafening applause. Almost every sentence of the senator brought forth applause from the audience. At the close of his speech the following resolution was adopted unanimously, amid the deafened cheers of the audience: Resolved, That having faith in General Charles II. ## That New Switch Track.

The new Union Pacific track south of the depot and near the Burlington & Missouri tracks is now used for switching purposes by the dummy engine, thus allowing the dummy trains to come right down to the depot waiting rooms without stopping at the southeastern end of the depot, as heretofore. This will freat convenience all around and avoid no little confusion among passengers.

DESPERATE ANARCHISTS. New York's Contingent to Stand or Fall as One Man.

New York, August 30,- [Special Telegram to the REE. |-Included in the information obtained by the police in their active though very secret pursuit of incendiary aparehists in this city during the present year was this; That the lawiess band within Herr Most's amp, that were burning up tenement houses for their private profit and have aiready lowded their consciences with mu der a dozer times over, had sworn to stand and fall together in self protection—to kill themselve or one another rather than risk falling into the hands of the police or disclosing each others secrets. When Editor Tucke exposed the New York plot in his paper, the Boston Liberty, last March and wrote, "It is their boast that the active anarchists shall all go to the gallows together," the alleged despera-tion of the band was taken for an empty boast. But the dogredness with which the Kohuts suffered silently their life sentences, the guilty brother knowing that the other was innocent and that he himself was being made the scapegoat of an inunitely worse rascal, while even the inneent convicted anarchist disdained to appeal for mercy, opened the eyes of the public.

FREYHAN'S FINANCES.

A Wholesale Liquor Dealer in Trouble

-Irvin Brothers Skip Out. It was announced yesterday evening that John A. Freyhan, the Thirteenth street wholesate liquor dealer, had failed in business. A BEE reporter asked Mr. Freyhan concerning the facts in the case and was informed by him that there had been no failure. He had merely sold out his business, he said, to the Franz-Falk Brewing Company. It was learned from other sources that the sale was made to meet the demands of creditors, who were pressing their clafms. The purchasers were among the heavy creditors, as Mr. Freyhan has been handling their goods at wholesale. The amount paid by them for the stock could not be ascer-tained. The First National bank of this city was among Mr. Freyhan's creditors, but he secured them by delivering outstanding bills against his trade. No action has been taken as yet by the creditors of Freyhan and the amount of liaolities is not known, but will reach, it is estimated, $20,000. A wholesale liquor house in Louisville is the heaviest loser.

TRWIN BROTHRES SKIP OUT.
While Fritz Wirth has been hunting after Ruhle's murderer two employment agency mer. ave been working him for their boar? ; sey were the Irwin brothers, doing business at the corner of Tenth and Harney. On Saturday their board bill amounted to $210 and Wirth made a demand for his money. The boys agreed to pay one-half of it and gave Wirth an order on the custodian of the federal building, for whom one of them had been working, for $100. The order was presented yesterday when it was found that the amount due Irwin, $50, had been paid on Saturday night. It was then discovered that the Irwins had left the city. Their other creditors have not been heard from as yet.

TYPHOID FEVER VICTIMS. Two Sad Deaths From the Dread Dis-

FALLS CITY, Neb., August 30 .- [Correspondence of the BEE. ]-Last Saturday, at 10 o'clock a. m., Miss Amanda Holt, who has been a sufferer from typhoid fever for the past ten weeks, departed this life at the age of sixteen years. Deceased was a daughter of Hon. Jno. W. Holt, president of the First National bank, and was very highly esteemed by all who knew her. Funeral services were held at the M. E. church at 3:30 p. m. yesterday, Rev. R. G. Adams, of the M. E. church, and Rev. Neilson, of the Presbyterian church, officiating. Your correspondent noticed a number of very beautiful floral offerings. The church was crowded with friends of the young lady, and fully 300 were turned away from the door, for whom there was no room inside. The remains were laid to rest in Steele cemetery, just west of the

On Friday evening at 10 o'clock, Mrs. Mary A. Sears, wife of Volney Sears, died, typhoid fever being the cause of her death. Just one week ago a ten year old son of the same parties died from the same disease. Mrs. Sears was about twenty-six years of age, and a lady highly esteemed in this city.

The long continued hot and dry weather has caused considerable sickness in this locality, and there are quite a number of cases of typhoid fever. Ryan, Rube Horrocks, and a number of others are on the sick list now.

A large delegation of G. A. R. boys, together with the local drum corps, left for the reunion at Grand Island this morning. Another delegation will leave for the same place to-morrow.

The Richardson County Leader will ssue a daily edition during the fair at this place next week. Miss Mamie Cain, who has been visit-ing friends in St. Josepa, Mo., for the past three weeks, returned home Saturday afternoon.

THE GREAT OMAHA FAIR.

It Will Be One of the Finest Ever Held in the West.

THE INTER-STATE EXPOSITION.

Chinese Cigar Makers-Omaha's Gas Well-An Amsterdam Scribe-A New Ransas City Route-Other Local.

The Great Pair. On the 4th and 6th of next month, respectively, two exhibitions will be opened in Omaha, to which the attention of the people of the state is respectfully directed. These are the Omaha tair and the Inter State Industrial Exhibition. The first of these is in its second year. The second is now undertaken for the first time. So far as visitors are concerned. these entertainments are independent of each other. Yet they are open at about the same time. One is in the city, the other at the fair grounds, a short distance outside the city limits. Each in nearly every respect differs from the other, so that every visitor to Omaha during fair week, to take in all the sights, must see both the fair and the exposition. Both form a show which has never been equalled in this part of the country. THE OMAHA FAIR.

This will be held on the spacious grounds immediately outside the city limits, which have been provided with the fastest half mile track in the country, the finest grand stand west of Chicago, and a host of other structures and stalls equalled in no town west of Chicago. The officers comprise the following men: Jos. Garneau, R. Kitchen, Hugh Clark, D. H. Wheeler, J. H. McShane, J. T. Clark and Churchill Parker. The attrac-tion here, in the main, will be those of a state fair, with the exception that the whole country will be levied on for fea-tures. Already, these are coming in with unexampled frequency. There will be agricultural exhibits from every part of the state and mineral curiosities from every part of the country. The mining regions of the west and northwest have already sent in their contributions, especially those from northern Nebraska, where now fabulous fortunes are being made by the hundreds there engaged. Agrieukural implement men from all sections will display the largest number of machines for the use of the farmer exhibited west of the Missouri. western Iowa contributes to the quota and will send hundreds of spectators. The leading manufacturers of Omana and surrounding states will have work ing machines on the ground and in the halls. Then comes the racing features. These will take place every day during the fair. Ten thousand dollars will be given in prizes for these alone. There will be trotting and running and running running for two-year-olds, trotting for three-year-olds, trotting for classes of 2:40, 2:35, 2:27, 2:24 and several other greater and lesser times. Besides these there will be running and other trotting races numbering about twenty-five for all of which the greatest number of en-tries ever recorded here have been made. On Thursday a purse of $3,500 will be trotted for by two of the most noted horses in the country. These are Harry Wilkes and Phyllis. Everybody knows that these horses are among the list of famous ones. It required an inducement to bring them here. It was $3,000. Besidee that inducement an extra $500 has been guaranteed to the horse which makes 2:18. That will be the fastest time ever made in this part of the world It will bring lovers of sport from all parts of the west, because no such horse flesh has been exhibited here since the appearance of Rarus eighty years ago. There will be three balloon ascensions during the fair, by the celebrated Professor Oscar Hunt. These will take place on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday. This is a novelty rarely exhibited, and yet it has an indefinable attraction for thousands of people. Besides, there will be Butcher's equestrian gymnasium, consisting of four horses galloping at light ning speed, supporting a series of complicated trapezes, upon man performs the most daring and skillful evolutions. Then here is a greyhound race, which six of these noble animals run with the celerity of the wind, and with the same desire of winning that actuates human beings. Their swiftness is one of the marvels of the huntsmen's world. sides these, there will be a hundred other novelties too numerous to mention, one of which will be a baby show, in the beauty and chivalry of the infantile world of Omaha will be displayed. Such a curi-osity as this is for the first time introduced into the state, and the collection of the cherubs now guaranteed, is in excess of every anticipation. The cars run to the gounds, and will deposit patron at everyyhour.

INTER-STATE EXPOSITION. This will be held in the new exposition building on the corner of Capital avenue and Fifteenth street. This structure is not yet one year old. It is built of brick and covers nearly an entire block. It is fashioned, in many respects, after the famous exposition building of Chicago, and is intended for precisely the same This exposition will be a revelation to the people of Nebraska. Two hundred exhibitors have been clamoring for space, and as the day of opening approaches the number of parties desiring to display their goods increases almost one hundred fold. The immense building, floor, gallery and an annex. larger than any hall in the city, will be covered with the choicest, richest, and most unique displays of goods and manufactures ever collected west of the Mississippi. Every foot of the area mentioned, except that devoted to avenues and passages, will be utilized to display the finest goods ever catalogued in Omaha, and show the various means and appliances made use of by the manufacturers in our midst. There is nothing that our people cat wear, drink, or in any way handle which will not be displayed, arranged in novel designs and surrounded by decorations intended at once to attract and delight the eye. D. M. Steele, for instance, will put in a plate glass house costing $1,500. the interior of which will contain a miniature wholesale grocery house. The drug house of H. T. Clarke will put up another house of the same kind, clear as crystal, costing $1,000. Creighton college will have a room full of philosophical instruments, all of which will be utilized in the scientific and yet popular experiments which will be made free in the presence of the visitors, during the day and evening. There will be another electrical display by Prof. Stadell, of European reputation, who will hourly deright audiences with the magic which seems to reside in his hands when working with electricity. The feature alone, in large cities, demands an admission price of 50 cents. Here no charge will be made. The art gallery will occupy the castern end of gallery will occupy the eastern end of the gallery. The leading artists of the country are contributing to its walls. It has been filled up after the manner with lights, reflectors, canopies and colors, of all the leading galleries of the world. Not less than $100,000 alone in art and bric a brac will be displayed in these rooms alone. The gallery walls, of nearly seven hundred feet in length, will be lit erally covered with pictures of all kinds There will be curiosities from Japan, China, Europe, the Indian country, to-gether with the only display of the rich heiriooms which to-day are lodged in the

these tapestries, for instance—are val-ned at $10,000, while others will aggre-gate no less than $30,000, from certain individuals. It would be useless to attempt to describe in detail the thousands of rich, strange and interesting sights which are being prepared for the visitors. Suffice it to say that nothing is being left undone to make the exposition the most unique entertainment ener given in the state. It will be open in the afternoon and evening, and people will thus have a dual opportunity of anjoying its features with the fair. Day and night the choicest purely all he workers. the choicest music will be rendered by the Omaha Musical Union orchestra.

OMAHA'S NATURAL GAS WELL. An Expert Grows Enthusiastic Over the Prospect.

Julius Severin, of Aurora, Ind., an export in the gas business, is in the city on business connected with the Omaha gas company. Yesterday he went out to South Omaha and made an examination of the gas well. As was previously stated, the stock yards company are putting down the well in hopes of striking water, and as they are in baste for water, they had driven the fron tubing lower down and had shut oil the supply of gas. Mr. Severin was not able to experiment with the gas, but made a careful examination and reports that the indications strongly favor the presence of combustible gas. "The reason why the men at the well were not able to ignite the gas, explained Mr. Severin, "is very simple "The reason why the men at the pressure which must have been about 120 pounds to the cubic inch, was so great that it would blow out the light If they had tapped the iron tube and conducted a small volume of the gas into a tank where the pressure would be light they would have undoubtedly had no trouble in igniting it. The pressure on the gas in the Omaha mains is only four or five pounds to the mch, and if it was increased to 120 pounds it would be entirely impossible to tight a gas jet. It is nothing strange that natural gas should be discovered in this vicinity. The earth is full of gas, and the time is coming when it will be a greater rarity not to have natural gas than it is now to have it. At the present time natural gas is found in a great many localities, not in sufficient quantities to make it useful." Mr. Severin then related a story that happened a good many years ago. A party of young men, of which he was one, went down the Ohio river on a fishing expedition. They camped for several days on the banks of the river and in place of a table, the cook had set up an old sugar barrel. The head was out and the barrel gradually settled down into the sand. One day the cook was cleaning and lighting a lantern, and happened to knock out a plug in the bottom of the barrel; in an instant a little flame shot up from the opening and quickly disappeared. The next instant there was a slight explosion sufficient to overturn the barrel and nearly scare the life out of the cook. The secret of this was that natural gas had gradually ac cumulated in the barrel and was ignited by the cook's lantern. The same phenomenon can be witnessed in a good many places along the Missouri river, in this vicinity, which Mr. Severin regards as a fact indicating the existence of natural gas in large quantities. At South Omaha the gas was struck in a strata of sand about seventeen feet in thickness, and it is not at all malikely that this is the reservoir from which the gas gradually cozes out along the river bank, where there is an outcrop of the sand. Mr. Severin was very enthusiastic over the great benefits that would be derived from the gas well at South Omaha. "Why, said he, gas is the best fuel in the world for smelting iron, it is not only a cheap fuel but it makes the very best quality of iron. Depend upon it, if this gas proves to be what I am confident it is, you will see a greater boom in manufacturing industries in Omaha than any one ever

Peter Her, who is well posted in gas as well as distilled spirits, is greatly impressed with the importance of the "find" and is urging a careful examination. The stock yards company will put down another well as soon as the present one is completed, and thep will then make a careful test of the gas by the method suggested by M. everin.

WON'T THEY BE WELCOME? A Party of Chinese to Take Union

Mens' Places in 'Frisco. Last night a party of Chinamen direct from Cuba passed through on the 8:20 train to San Francisco. They are export cigarmakers, who have been turning out fifteen cent "Henry Clays" in the far southern isle, and are going to the Pacific coast to take the place of union men. There was no one in charge of the mothly party, which included all ages of almond-eyed queuerlosities from a sixtyyear-old pig tail to little fellows who had not as yet arrived at the age when queues are allowed to be worn. One could speak a little English after a chopstick fashion, but all could jabber Spanish like a hidalgo. Shades of Don Carlos, what a revolution! How coincidental that these words of chivalric and Catholic Spain should be smoothly flowing over oily heathen tongues on the very grounds near which historical writers tell us Coronado had a G. A. R. reumon in the "Seven Cities of Cibola." The Mongols went on their way rejoicing. They can converse in Spanish of the Rock Springs inquisition as they pass through Wyoming, and when they get to California, what a reception will be theirs. The fatted calf will be killed no doubt, and these prodigal children of the sun will be received with open arms. This visit in all likelihood will be a stinger to Consul Bee.

IOWA VETERANS EN ROUTE

To the Nebraska G. A. R. Encamp-ment at Grand Island. Attached to the overland train last night was a special car occupied by Robert Provard No. 414 G. A. R. of Carson, Ia., and the Carson Cornet band of eighteen pieces, John G. Staddard leader, bound for the Grand Island encampment of Nebraska veterans. The Oakdale, Ia. Cornet band consisting of twelve pieces under the leadership of O. T. Bel-ger, was also on the train. The veterans and their friends numbered tifty-five persons. I. D. Kinne, commander of the post; D. W. Parker, its adjutant; John S.des, quartermaster, J. D. Eustis, mayor of Carson and other prominent citizens of that lively little place were with the party. The car was gaily decorated with flags and streamers and during the stay in the depot the bands played several well known airs, and the train moved out amid the cheers of the large crowd on the platform. Doubling the Track. Yesterday morning twenty-one car loads of stock, belonging to Ora Hailey, were drawn to the city under a misapprehension as to where the animals were o be fed. Halley arrived here before they did, and saw them pass the stock yards, but did not arrest their progress until they had reached the city. They were then put between two engines, one at either end, and pulled and shoved back to the stock yards.

Soldiers to the Front. Sergeant Adam Koch commanded a squad of recruits and veterans westward bound last night. The first named are for Cheyenne, the others for Fort Douglas, Utah, and came from the barracks at ANOTHER R. C. ROUTE.

Arrival of the First Train From Kansas City Over the Union Pacific.

The afternoon train from the west, familiarly known as No. 4, arrived in two sections yesterday, no connection being made, as usual, with the Lincoln and Beatrice run at Valley. This was caused by the fact that the first train over the new Union Pacific short line to Kansas City was coming and taking its time in so doing. It pulled into the depot at 6:15, with locomotive No. 394 in the lead and Mike Decker at the throttle. There were ten cars and Conductor John Rogers had them in charge. General Superintendent Syl. T. Smith's special car brought up the rear of the train and its occupants. besides the gentleman named, were J. A. Munroe, general freight agent; E. Lane, resident engineer, and J. J. Burns, general storekeeper all Union Pacific officials. But few know the importance of this arrival, being as it is the first train over the third direct connection between Omaha and Kansas City. The conches had the regular quota of passengers, hav-ing been brought up here to do service during the G.A.R. excursions to Grand Island. There was no Mayor Chase on board to make a welcoming speech, no music, no celebration, and, in fact, nothing outside the ordinary arrival of a be lated train with a special car attached con taining prominent railroad officials. new line is, by the way, a connecting link lately contracted between Marysville and Manhattan, on the Kansas Pacific, which link unites the Nebraska and Kansas di-vision of the U. P. The last spike was 'sent home' Saturday night and the first train left Kansas City at 2 a. m. yester-day. No attempt was made to run on any regular time, as no schedule is arranged as yet. In all probability this will be fixed up to-day, and regular trains between the two municipal grants of the Missouri valley at once.

AN AMSTERDAM SCRIBE. He is Making a Tour of the World to Write a Book. Yesterday morning at the Union Pa cific depot, a BEE reporter had the pleasure of meeting a courteous gentleman of the journalistic profession on the other side of the water. It was J. A. DeBergh, the editor-in-chief of the Amsterdam Courant. It is a daily paper with a circulation of 70,000. Besides this, it has the distinction of being the oldest paper in the world, having been established in 1619, and some of the copies of that year are still preserved.

Mr. De Bergh is going around the world for the purpose of writing a book of travels, and has thus far been eight mouths on his journey. During that time, he has visited France, Algeria, Suez, Java, Cochin China, Japan and America. He leaves to night for St. Paul, thence for New York and thence home. He will publish the work immediately upon his arrival. It will be illustrated from photographic views which he takes at all noted places on his route.

Not in McGuckin's. Ex-Alderman McGuckin is naturally indignant that the report should be circulated, and even published, that a row occurred in his place of business Sunday night, in which a man from the stock yards was badly injured. There was no disturbance whatever in that neighborhood. The facts are that a cooper, employed at Her's distillery, and a man employed at the stock yards, became involved in a quarrel on Twelfth street, near Leavenworth. The former struck the latter with a club, inflicting a dangerous cut. Both ran toward Tenth street and the injured man stopping on the corner, the blood flowing freely from his wound. Mr. McGuckin very kindly took um in his place of pusiness and furnished him with washing materials. He then strangers had settled up their difficulty by the transfer of $40 from assailant to assumited, they applied to Mr. McGuckin great credit.

for something to drink. He refused to The convention give them anything, although neither was under the influence of strong drink.

Katz' Denial.

Contractor Katz says that his firm is not responsible for the inequality of the surface of Park avenue. The hill referred to by a complaint of one of the residents of that thoroughfare in last Saturday's BEE is occasioned, Mr. Katz says by the excavation made by the horse rail way company. He says the grading has not been discontinued, and further that his firm has until the first of November in which to finish the same. There are working, he says, just where they can work to advantage and they desire the people out there to understand that the work in question cannot be completed in

A Scribe on Board.

A. V. Mayfield, of the Observer, Louis ville, was on the Missouri Pacific freight train which was run into by the Union Pacific train on Saturday night last. He was on top of one of the cars, saw the Union Pacific train approaching, and threw himself down upon the roof to brace against the shock. He caught hold of the plank walk, but when the collision came he was flung to the other end of the roof. He rendered some valuable assistance in helping to remove the dead and injured from the wreck.

The Federal Building.

In United States court vesterday an amendment was filed to the petition of August Frank vs. Nemeha county, stipulating that the plaintiff should receive interest from the date of his suit in case judgment is rendered in his favor when the case comes to trial.

L. W. Tulleys, of the firm of Burnham, Tulleys & Co., of Council Bluffs, com-menced an action to foreclose a mortgage on the realty of William German to secure money loaned upon the same.

vention Held Saturday. Walloo, Nica., August 29,-[Special Correspondence of the Brig. ]-The republicans of Saunders county held their county convention at the court house yesterday to select delegates to the state and congressional conventions and nominate candidates for the state legislature and county offices. The convention was called to order by C. C. Perky, chairman of the central committee, and Hon. H. H. Shedd was made chairman of the convention. After effecting an organization and appointment of committees, a recess was taken till 1 p. m. During the recess canvassing and wire pulling was active by those who had interests to subserve, When the conventien was again called to order, committees reported and a contest from Douglas precinct was soon dised of, the delegation supporting Van Nominations for state senator were then made. The present incumbent, C. A. Day, who is a pronounced van Wyck supporter, was put in nomination, and A. Halmer, the candidate for the same place on the prohibi-tion ticket, and G. W. Curtis, were also put in nomination. The first ballot gave Day a large majority, but the ring were bent on defeating Day, and by trickery and shrewd maneuvering had the ballot declared informal, and then they set to work to mass all opposition for Curtis, and then before a second ballot could be taken called on Day to state his position on the United States senatorial issue, which he by openly and fearlessly declaring in favor of Van Wyck. When the second ballot was taken Day again had a large majority and was this time declared the nominee of the convention. Hon P. J. Hall was then nominated for state legislator without opposition. He is not committed on the senatorial issue, but is supposed to favor Van Wyck. R. K. Johnson and Martin Thorson were nominated for the other two legislative posi-tions without opposition. The latter two are not committed, nor are their views egarding the senatorial question known. A large number candidates contested for the nomination of county commis-

Thirteen delegates were chosen to the state convention and the same number to the congressional convention. The committee on resolutions presented a resolution favoring the submission to the people of a constitutional prohibitory amendment, which was adopted by the convention without a dissenting vote.

The convention was characterized throughout by the large attendance and the deep interest manifested. One thing was determined beyond doubt, and that is that the farmers of Saunders county are in favor of Van Wyck and will demand of their representatives in the leg-islature that they support the champion of the people's interests.

Bellevue, Neb., August 30, 1886. Fitzgerald already shows the result of histraining and is in splendid form. He feels confident of winning the coming match, and one thing is certain, he will be in splendid condition when he faces Marx. He is a very gentlemanly young man, and makes friends on sight, dresses stylishly, but not loud, and would be taken on the street as a young foreigner on an American visit. There is not the slightest thing to criticize either in his language or actions, and only his fine phisique indicates that he is skilled on the science of self defense, and no common man can successfully stand before him. From all present appearance the boxing match of the eighth will be a rare treat for those who like athletic
